SGA has generously awarded an allocation of these fees to a travel grant account administered by the UNT Study Abroad Office (SAO) exclusively for UNT degree-seeking students to use on approved programs abroad. SAO must apply for this allocation each academic year and will post information on the availability of funding for subsequent years as soon as it is known.

- Nicholas and Anna Ricco Ethics Scholarship

Competition <https://music.unt.edu/nicholas-and-anna-ricco-ethics-scholarship-competition>

Nick and Anna Ricco, long-time UNT donors, created an ethics scholarship competition in 2011. It is open to all students in the 13 colleges and schools at the University of North Texas. The ethics competition was created to promote intellectual debate and discussion on ethics as related to students' areas of study at UNT, their field of vocation or their avocation. The goal is to stimulate the applicants to new heights of reasoning and self-discipline. The ultimate result will be a higher level of ethical understanding in one's area of study and daily life. It is the hope of the donors that students will recognize and better comprehend the need for a higher understanding of ethics in their personal and professional lives. The deadline is January 31, 2018 at 11:59 p.m.

○ Graduate Fellowship & Grant Opportunities

<http://graduate.music.unt.edu/grant-scholarship-and-fellowship-opportunities>

This database contains graduate student funding opportunities in the arts & humanities, with sub-listings for grants with the Andrew W. Mellon and William J. Fulbright Foundations, the later overseen at UNT by UNT-International (see drop down menu under Contents). This list was put together by Dr. Colleen Conlon and is maintained in collaboration with the UNT Office for Nationally Competitive Scholarships. For students who might be competitive for prestigious national awards, make sure they speak with Jim Duban in the Office of Nationally Competitive Scholarships – his help has been quite beneficial to music students pursuing these awards in the past.
